'81 budget down, police up $64,000

by GLORIA DAVIS

Last week the Antioch News reported that the proposed 1981-82 budget for the village of Antioch was $1.7 million. This was compared to a figure of $2,368,936 budgeted and $2,169,806 spent last year by adding all the figures we had on the monies budgeted and spent by the village in that fiscal year, provided by the village clerk.

Comparing the two, we came up with figures that showed the new budget was approximately $700,000 less than last year's budget and approximately $500,000 less than was spent last year.

The figures added indicated monies spent on special projects, plus fund and bond figures during 1980-81. The News was given the impression that total outlay was a total budget.

"This does not give a true figure comparison of the normal cost of operating the village," it is best to compare the total general fund figures.

The general fund includes administrative costs, the public works department costs, park department costs, pool department costs, the general liability fund, police and fire funds, street, road and bridge funds, civil defense funds, etc.

In 1980-81 the village budgeted $1,881,414 for the general fund and spent $1,580,397.

The village budgeted $151,529 for the Orchard St. repaving project, which was included in the general fund budget, and spent $193,261 from the general fund plus $180,000 from the motor fuel tax fund on that project. So in reality, the general fund expenditures for 1980-81 were $1,773,648, including the Orchard St. project.

With $1,739,480 being proposed for the general fund budget for 1981-82, with inflation presently at nine percent, the new proposed general fund budget is approximately $142,000 less than last year's budget and $34,000 less than what was dispensed from the general fund last year, including Orchard St. expenditures.

In checking we also found that we only had the figures for the total police department budget sans dispatchers cost, etc., when we quoted the 1981-82 police budget figure at $349,150.

The total police fund budget for 1981-82 is actually $432,650.

So the police fund is up almost $64,000 from last year's expenditure of $368,739.

This year's budget slates $108,000 under revenue sharing and the money spent last year for this was $112,000.

According to Village Clerk Marilyn Sterbenz, both figures are so close that the pendulum this year is expected to be about the same as last.

The village board is expected to pass an appropriation ordinance on the $1.7 million proposed budget at this Monday's (July 20) board meeting.

ACHS Board okays term ballot

At the regular meeting of the board of education of Antioch Community High School, held on July 16, the board approved placing a referendum on the November 3 placing a referendum on the Nov. 3 ballot of education members from four to six years, beginning in 1983.

The reason for this action is the maintaining of the continuity of board membership by staggering the terms of office so that no more than three of the seven members will have their terms expire in the same year.

In other action, the board approved the acceptance of a $36,694 low bid for the 1981-82 insurance coverage of the district.

The low bid was made by Dewey King of Insurance Management Bureau and is $10,149 lower than the current insurance premium.

After a discussion on the upcoming year's homecoming pep rally, the board came out in favor of including professional entertainment in next fall's gathering, in order to attract more alumni and parents.

Residents irked over new rural addresses

by GLORIA DAVIS

The Lake County Board mandated address change for unincorporated areas of Lake County has created quite a stir locally.

The biggest headache of course seems to be faced by the residents of Antioch Township whose addresses are being changed.

One gentleman from Channel Lake reports that he understands that his new address is The Fourth House on Edgewood Dr.

He claims to see no sense in this designation since his mailbox is not in front of his house anyway.

We have not been able to get information confirming that such addresses exist or whether this gentleman just misunderstood his.

He was also perturbed at the thought of spending 15 cents to send cards to notify people of his address change.

He was not aware that the post office will forward all mail addressed to his old address for a year, when it will then be returned to sender.

Jean Rybicki, who works for the Antioch News and lives in Antioch Township, having received no information on the change of her address, is in the midst of mystifying communications with Lake County, who claim that they not only didn't know her house existed but, now that they are looking for it, can't find it.

Rybicki says she has had no trouble receiving her mail until now, especially her tax bills from the county.

Laddie Korecek, vice president of the Antioch Savings and Loan, reports that the address changes will cost his company, as well as many other local businesses, a lot of time and money in changing the addresses on thousands of their files as well as on their mailing lists.

Korecek, who already had a five digit num-

Like your address?

Residents of rural Antioch are steamed about address changes being imposed by the county and we don't blame them. The reasons for and the way the address changes were implemented are typical of the cavalier way government treats citizens.

First of all, reasons for making the changes have little or nothing to do with improving mail service or expediting location of homes for emergency services. The address change was enacted so the county could save on publication costs through establishment of index numbers for each parcel which replace longer metes and bounds descriptions. That's the story in a nutshell. The address change ordinance was adopted in 1977. We forgot about it. So did everyone else.

Sure, the Antioch area may have umpteen Lake Shore Drs., eliminated in the new system, which is based on the grid system using State and Madison Sts. (Chicago) at the starting point. But we haven't heard of any Antioch residents not getting their mail or our local firemen going to the wrong address when called. Bunko to the county politicians who crammed this one down our throats.

Contrast the Lake County approach to a change being enacted now by the postmaster of Trevor for Wisconsin patrons who have been getting mail delivery through the Antioch post office. We couldn't help but note that in our news columns last week householders were asked to "consider" using house and street numbers to replace route and box numbers. Mail patrons can obtain new grid system numbers from the Kenosha County Courthouse.

Obviously, residents in and around Rock Lake will benefit from changing their address numbers. Quite a difference from the meat ax approach of Lake County. We don't see any particular benefits for residents of unincorporated Antioch who are being forced to change their address.

Along the way with ANNIE MAE

I've been practicing grinning in the mirror preparing for National Smile Week, August 2.

Antioch has long been proud of PM&L and its members and now Lake County, realizing the acting prowess of the group, saw a one act play, "A Happy Journey" by Thornton Wilder, win first place at The Festival In The Forest in Wauconda on July 12.

Congrats to Mickey Mandel who took a first as best actress, Larry Bersie, the play's director and Bruce Berger who won best actor for his role in "The Hobbit," given by the Pullman Players.

Berger is a PM&L favorite.

I've heard from the people in Oakwood Kholls how pleased they were with Antioch's Fourth of July Parade.

They were especially proud of their float which represented the stores on Main St., showing an oak log running the float's entire length, signifying their support of the downtown merchants and Antioch.

Claudette Skvarce, the parade's coordinator is to be congratulated.

I see that Judy Furlan and Jamie Smith, who celebrated their marriage at the Antioch American Legion Hall on May 29, are living in Breckenridge, Colo.

Navy Boatswain's Mate 3rd Class Timmy Sanderson, son of Alice Sanderson, rural Antioch, has just returned from an eight month cruise aboard the fast combat ship USS Camden, homeported in Bremerton, Wash.

Port of calls made during this 66,000 mile trip on the Indian Ocean were Mombasa, Kenya, Pattaya Beach and Thailand.

Speaking of Antioch's men in the military, Antioch is proud of TSgt. Martin Lulofs, who has been presented an award as Outstanding Combat Support Group Airman for his outstanding management of the base suggestion program.

He has also been honored as the best suggestion program manager in the Tactical Air Command for 1980.

Storm drainage tops grant list

Between 25 and 30 residents of the Channel Lake and Lake Catherine areas attended the hearing on the Community Development Block Grants that are available on Thursday, July 16, at the Antioch Township Hall.

Both areas have already been designated as two out of 10 that qualify to receive some of the $3.5 million that Lake County has available for property acquisition and rehabilitation.

According to Joe Heffner, Lake County Dept. of Planning, Zoning and Environmental Quality, who helped conduct the meeting, input gotten from the residents attending showed their main interest to be storm water drainage.

Street improvements, street lighting, lake cleanup and septic repairs were also on the list of things that residents of both the Channel Lake and Lake Catherine areas would like to see attended to.

Heffner, who was pleased with the response shown at Thursday's meeting, said that the department would look over the responses from this and other hearings held in 10 target areas and decided how the available monies will be allocated.

Letter To The Editor

THANKS FOR HELP

Editor:

The recent Cross Lake Arts and Crafts Fair needed a lot of help to make the day a success. Than "Upstairs" gave us some good weather and the talented exhibitors gave us a wonderful show.

The generosity of the local businessmen was overwhelming, the press reported our progress superbly. With that kind of encouragement we got hope.

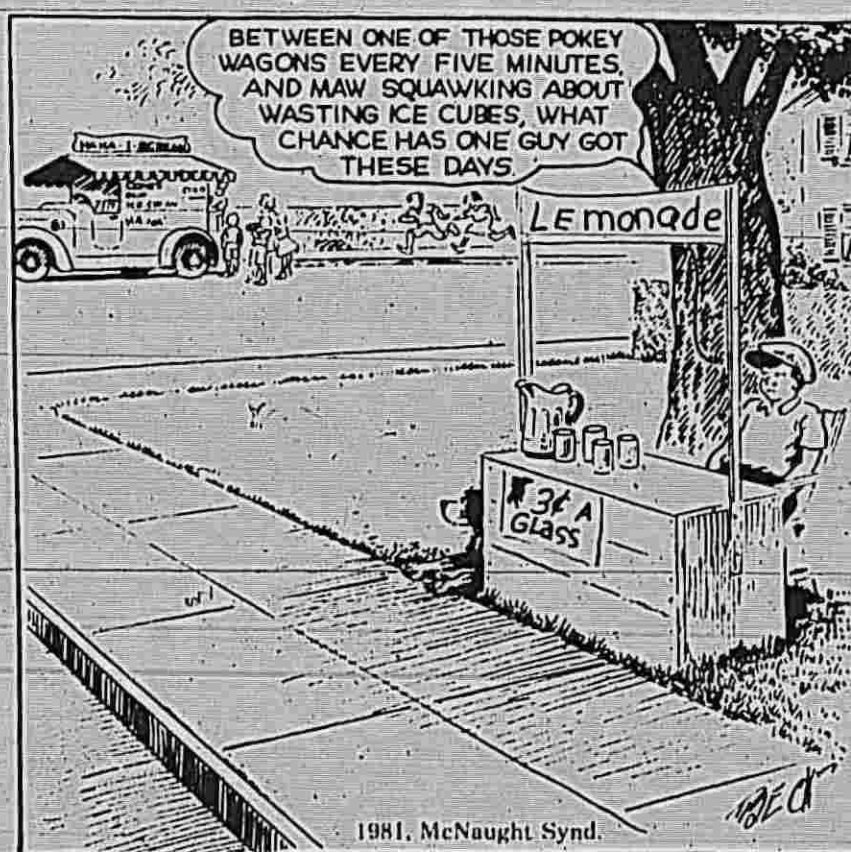

Inside our subdivision busy hands had created, some with hammer and nail, while others baked.

When "Fest" day arrived we needed something else — and then the "public" arrived.

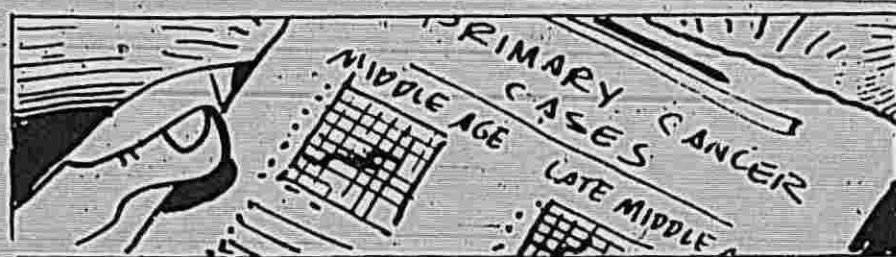

Yes, we owe the success of that day to all those unsung heroes, and we thank you ALL for it.

When I think about it

Pork bellies are better buy than new dress

by GLORIA DAVIS

With this topsy turvy economy, when cars and homes are not selling, it seems that suddenly the best selling product on the market is money.

If you listen to all the experts, famed economists, Fortune Magazine and my neighbor, there's a big profit to be made by purchasing, in an indirect way or otherwise, the thing you are purchasing with.

Now if you find that last statement a little confusing, imagine the state of turmoil it puts me in, I who cannot even balance my personal checkbook.

The banks and the savings and loans are offering money market certificates that pay a higher rate of interest that can be garnered from a normal or even golden passbook savings account.

Now logic tells me, that as long as they are loaning money at a 16 percent interest rate or more, they can afford to pay 13 or 14 percent interest on these certificates of deposit.

The only problem that I see is that, in the long run, there must be many more takers at 13 percent then there are those who are willing to pay 16 or more percent for a loan.

A friend at a savings and loan tells me that there is a bill in the offing that will allow the carriers to pay a lower interest rate on these certificates, but because a certain amount will be deductible from personal federal income taxes, those in the 40 percent income bracket, will, in the long run, make more than they would if they accepted the high rates paid by the certificates. The savings institutions will come out better than they have been with more people collecting on certificates than have been paying the high housing interest rates.

I hear that the really big money to be made or lost is in money market certificates, although they are not guaranteed like the certificates of deposit, the interest rates can fluctuate extremely in short period of time.

But, even if you are more knowledgeable about these things than I, it's probably a good idea to ask advice and explanations from your bank or savings and loan.

I've also heard that one of the reasons for our economic problems is that we have suddenly made the man on the street a financier.

Of course if one is interested in either making or losing really big money, there's always the stock market.

I was growing tired and envious of the people I knew who were living of their stock dividends so I joined an informal investment group.

Our group is more or less led by a friend that knows something about the stock market and, after many meetings, I now can bandy about words like stock futures, commodities, stock option, Dow Jones and phrases like, "I hear energy stocks are up," or "What do you mean it's at $4, we bought at $7?"

The last phrase is usually punctuated with a tear or two.

Anyone hung-up on heredity may find my dealing with the stock market a particularly strange thing, seeing that I inherited a trunk full of confederate notes from my great grandfather, two lots that were condemned by the city of Chicago when the St. Lawrence Seaway came through from my grandmother and a Henry J and an Eidsel from my Dad.

One thing that I am thrilled with is the fact that I now know what that nasal little man, who gives the Dow Jones Report, is talking about when he talks about soybean futures and the price of pork bellies.

Who would have "thunked" that mundane things like soybeans and pork bellies would be money makers.

Soybean futures are the going rate of soybeans next spring when they are picked and they are talking about the frozen pig's stomachs that are the source of such high money makers as bacon etc. I know man who makes a very good living just buying and selling pork bellies.

So far we have invested in oil leases at $3 a share that have, in the last few months, dropped to $1.50 a share and a pharmaceutical company whose main product has yet to be approved by the Food and Drug Admin.

I keep yelling, "Let's buy Sears" and, as they ignore my suggestion on the grounds that Sears stock moves too slowly, I watch it go up a dollar at a time, report after report.

As we all know money times are hard and "they" say, "When times are hard, buy hard," meaning hard metal like gold and silver.

Supposedly gold prices are down and this is the time to buy those gold pieces and hord them, betting the price will soar again as it did last year.

The trick is to switch your money from the stock market just before stocks go down, buy metal then or money certificates when they are up, then switch your money back to the stock market just before it rises again.

How do you know when to do these things? If I knew, my byline would be running in Fortune Magazine and I'd send in my articles by courier from my yacht on the Mediterranean.

Wedding

St. Peter's Church in Antioch was the setting for the June 6 wedding of Lori Anne Haviland of Antioch and Jeffrey Allen Eder of Antioch. The bride was given away by her father in the double ring marriage ceremony performed by Fr. Francis Kub.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Haviland of Antioch. The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. John Eder, Jr. of Antioch.

For her wedding, the bride was attired in a white silk organza gown enhanced with beaded, reembodyered Alecon lace fashioned with a Queen Anne neckline, full bishop sleeves and a pleated skirt which fell from a modified waistline into a chapel length flounce. She wore a picture hat of matching lace with an illusion fingertip veil.

Attending the bride as maid of honor was Michele Blanchette. Bridesmaids were Tammy Mobley, Sue Murphy, Wynn Vos, Candy Bailey, Pat Lynch and Bunny Goers.

The groom's brother, John Eder, served as best man. Groomsmen were Jon Bodin; Mike Haviland, the bride's brother; Paul Petty; John Christiansen; Tim Haviland, the bride's brother and Dean Haviland, the bride's brother. Tim and Dean Haviland also ushered guests.

Erickson's selling cited

An Orrefors crystal figurine was presented to Beverly Erickson of Antioch in recognition of her outstanding achievement in competition with over 15,000 independent consultants from around the country who sell Princess House products.

She and the organizers and consultants who work with her were honored for scoring the fourth highest points in sales and introduction of new consultants in the first quarter of 1981.

The presentation was made before an audience of 1,000 people attending Princess House's national awards ceremonies in Toronto.

Princess House, Inc., a Colgate-Palmolive Co., is a leading national, direct sales company specializing in fine, handcrafted crystal and home decorating accessories. All of its products are sold through in-home demonstrations by a nationwide network of independent consultants.

Erickson found direct sales to be profitable for her, as have more than two million women (and men) actively involved in direct sales activities in 1980. Careers and part-time work in direct sales have become especially attractive to women looking for ways to supplement the family income in a time of inflation.

Part of the attraction is that it is easy to begin in direct sales. No specific skills, formal training, or college degrees are required.

There are no barriers based on age, race or sex. Hours and amount of time committed are flexible. Individual earnings from direct sales in 1980 ranged from a few dollars a week to $500,000 a year.

There will also be a Sunday matinee on August 2. The curtain will rise at 8:30 p.m. for the evening shows and 2:30 p.m. for the Sunday matinee.

The PM&L production is directed by Don Beveroth of Paddock Lake. His impressively talented cast of thousands include Kevin C. Fitzgerald, Wonder Lake; Frank Greenwood, Round Lake; Steve Sposato, Laurel Wood; and Gloria Stewart, McHenry; Pat Bast and Carole Mallowney, Fox Lake; Steven Beno, Wildwood; Anne and Krista Beveroth, Paddock Lake; Eric and Dawn Hansen, Lake Villa; and from Antioch, D.H. Martin Domeracki, Tom and Jane Hausman, Dave Carlson, Charley Bishoff, Bill and Stephanie Seeman, Pat Sershon, Peter Thelen, Chris and Susan Hubbard, Nicole Sciortino, and George Blanksten.

Together these players, some newcomers, some veterans of the PM&L stage, bring off the colorful and delightful mixture of romance, buffoonery, and roguish magic that are the essence of "A Midsummer Night's Dream."

One blushes to mention the number of years during which this sure-fire formula has been captivating audiences both inside and outside the English-speaking world.

If you have not already made your reservations to see this great summer comedy of escape, you had better dash immediately to your telephone to call 395-3055 for your reservations.

Since nobody is too young or too old to enjoy "A Midsummer Night's Dream," full houses may be expected.

Lake County Fair due to open July 29

One of Lake County's most popular family entertainment forms, the Lake County Fair, will open its doors Wednesday, July 29. First order of business will be the crowning a the new Lake County Fair Queen.

Local pageants have been held throughout Lake County to qualify contestants for this year's Fair Queen contest.

Last year's Miss Lake County Fair, Teresea Connor of Mundelein, went to be selected Miss Illinois State Fair.

Miss Lake County Fair will receive a $500 scholarship from the fair association and other prizes donated by local merchants and groups. Runnersup and Miss Congeniality will also receive prizes.

Twenty-three contestants will compete in bathing suit, evening gown and street clothes on the WXLC Main Stage. Contestants will be judged on personality, poise and appearance. The pageant will be held beginning at 7:30 p.m., July 29.

Another feature attraction will be a fine collection of local talent, appearing throughout the fair on the Main Stage. Larry Leafblad, sales manager of WXLC-FM, who is coordinating the use of the Main Stage during the fair, said that the performers will be guaranteed "no money, but lots of exposure and a potential audience in the tens of thousands."

Groups interested in performing should contact Leafblad at 662-0540 or 223-2086.

For those who like to be in the spotlight, but live a little more dangerously, the fair association is encouraging participation in the annual demolition derby. Feature winner will receive $300 and a trophy.

Demolition derbies will be held at 8 p.m., Thursday, July 30, and at 6:30 p.m., Sunday, August 2. Competition is open to any driver age 16 and older. Specific rules provide for even and safe competition. Derby rules and entry blanks are available at Behning's Auto Parts in Antioch and Grayslake, and they are also available through the fair secretary's office at the fairgrounds, Rte. 45 and 120 in Grayslake.

WMAQ-radio-personalities Jerry Taft and Terry Stevens will emcee the preliminaries of a Country-Western Talent Contest, Wednesday, July 29, and Thursday, July 30 at 8 p.m.

The contest is open to anyone who wants to enter. A maximum of two performers will be allowed on stage at a time and each act will be allowed a practice run, prior to the judging. Interested performers should contact Bill or Jerry Walker, 223-2204 and schedule their performance for either Wednesday or Thursday evening preliminary judging.

Rodeo performances will be at 8 p.m., Friday, July 31, and for 2 p.m. and 8 p.m., Saturday, August 1.

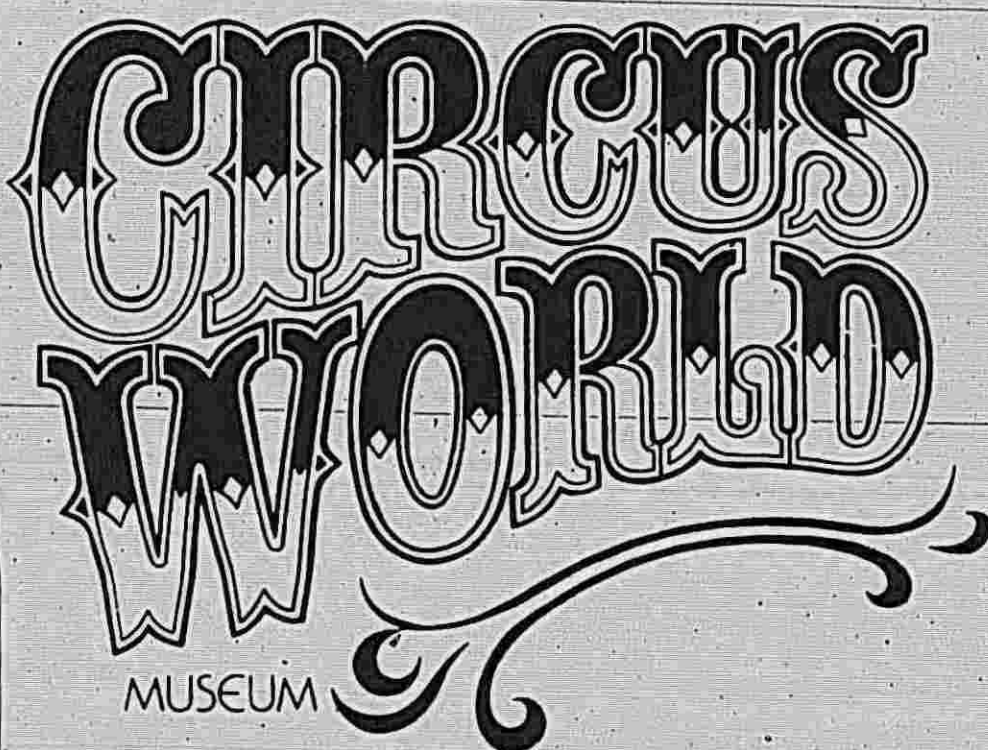

Exhibits and competition will continue throughout the fair, Wednesday, July 29 through Sunday, August 2.

Cable tv slated for township

Although Lake County wants to write a countywide cable tv ordinance, many of the county's townships have already made, or are in the process of entering, into agreements with cable tv companies.

With Antioch Township

Supervisor Jim Fields seeing no problems with the township entering into such an agreement, the 10,000 residents of Antioch Township may soon have availability to cable television programming through U.S. Cable, as do the residents of the village of Antioch.

Lake Villa and Warren Townships have already reached agreements with U.S. Cable and Grant Township is in the midst of negotiations with them.

At the July 9 Antioch Township meeting, the township board approved the writing up of an agreement between the township and U.S. Cable.

The township is expected to enter into such an agreement at their next board meeting on August 13.

The township will give monies raised by this agreement to Antioch Community High School to fund classes in tv broadcasting, expecting three percent of the gross profits made by U.S. Cable on the project in their area.

With cable tv being made available to the 4,000 residents of the township, expectations of garnering in the neighborhood of $5,000 as their annual share of the gross profits are held.

Notice the flag on the front of the charge out desk. It was done by the children in the summer reading program. Very nice boys and girls!

Address change

bered personal address; says he has had two address changes since he moved into his house on Sylvan Dr. two years ago and now they are changing the name of the street to North Ave.

The people living on Sylvan Dr. are signing a petition and joining with Illinois Bell to keep the old street name.

The Lake County Board has just enacted an ordinance passed in 1977, when they changed the addresses of all the unincorporated areas in the county "to cut costs on tax publications by eliminating the metes and bounds descriptions; to make address locations more precise, especially enabling emergency services to locate heart attack and fire victims with more speed and accuracy."

The big question is, as usual, does government of the people involved benefit most from this change.

Antioch's Bandman triumphs

Gerald Bandman of Antioch took first place honors in the amateur portion of the pro-am division of the Waukegan Open Bowling Tournament.

Bandman won his first pro-am by rolling scores of 210, 222 and 232 to total 1,390 pins.

Finishing second was last year's pro-am champion, Scott Hudson of Lake Villa, who rolled a total of 1,388.

The only other Lakeland area residents in the top 10 was Gurnee's Sherry Gorst who placed third with 1,385, Park City's Carl Holverson who was seventh with 1,342 and Lindenhurst's Claude Anderson who placed 10th with 1,335.

Over 80 bowlers competed in the pro-am held at Bertrand's Lanes in Waukegan.

Residents to be practical about grant fund needs

by CAROLE RISKA

Lake Catherine and Channel Lake residents attended a meeting July 16 at Antioch Township Hall to discuss their neighborhood problems with representatives from the Lake County Community Grant program.

This program, as $3.5 million dollars to spend for improvements in various areas in Lake County.

Channel Lake and Lake Catherine are two of the areas targeted for some of these funds.

Residents spoke up on several issues. Not surprisingly, lake improvements, sewers, water, streets, street lights and garbage disposal came up often, but after further discussion and explanations from the grant program representative and Jim Fields, Antioch township supervisor, these area residents understood that they would have a better chance of obtaining some of these funds if they listed those problems that demand urgent and immediate attention rather than attempting to apply for monies to be used on projects that could take several years to resolve.

Channel Lake and Lake Catherine residents agreed that their priorities are first drainage; second, sanitary-septic problems; and third, housing rehabilitation for low and moderate income citizens.

The attitude of the residents at the close of the meeting was "Let's be practical and attack the basic problems first."

There was a hopeful feeling that the community grant program representatives would be going back to their bosses with a clear message on Channel Lake and Lake Catherine's citizens problems.

It isn't easy for politicians, who rely on public good will, to resist part of their public's pressure. So all the more reason to say congratulations to the Lake County Board for resisting the efforts of the Illinois Citizens for Family Life who want to censor cable tv.

The board took a stand against this group and clearly stated that the Lake County Board could not violate the basic right of American citizens to have their freedom of speech and freedom of choice.

There is already an ordinance that states that the company that receives the cable tv franchise has to provide, free of charge, a lock out box with a key, allowing subscribers to select at their own discretion, whether they are home or not, what programs their children will have access to.

This does not mean that I am in favor of some of these television programs or of certain books, or suggestive movies, for young viewers or readers, but censorship begins at home, not with the government.

There is a service in Lake County called Help Link. If you have a problem and there is an agency in Lake County that can help you, but you don't know how or where to go about finding this help, contact this agency.

It is designed to help people with problems, people with handicaps, senior citizens, drug related problems, teenage pregnancy, troubled families etc.

For further information write to Lake County Help Link, P.O. Box 214, Waukegan, Ill. 60085, give your name, address, phone number and enclose a stamped self addressed envelope.

Note Help Link is not responsible for the agency that it refers you to or the services that this agency renders.

Registration slated for Viking football league

The first round of registration for the Antioch Viking Jr. Tackle Football League will be from 6 p.m. to 9 p.m. July 24 at the Antioch Scout House. Boys in fifth to eighth grade can sign up for football and girls in sixth to eighth grade can sign up for cheerleading.

The Viking football league will be starting its 12th year and will be having registration every Friday and Saturday for three weeks. Last year there were approximately 175 boys and 50 girls who participated.

Registration will be from 6 p.m. to 9 p.m. on Fridays July 24, 31 and Aug. 7 at the Antioch Scout House. There will also be registration from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. on Saturdays July 25, Aug. 1 and 8 at the Antioch Scout House.

There will be a $25 registration fee for the football league and $10 for cheerleading. Kids who register will have to attest that they are healthy and able to participate.

Practice for football and cheerleading will begin Saturday Aug. 15. The first game will be played Sept. 13 and the season will end in November. All home games for the travel team and in-house games and practices will be at the Antioch Community High School.

There is expected to be eight teams. Six of the teams will be in-house teams that will play each other and two teams will be traveling teams. The two traveling teams will be divided into a junior and senior team based on weight and will play other teams in Lake County.

Participants in the league have come from Antioch, Lake Villa and Lindenhurst. Anyone who wishes to participate and is in the right age group may register.

The registration fee for the boys will pay for football shoes, socks, practice jersey, trophy and mouth guard. Games will be played weekly.

For further information call Nick Pappadakis, president of the league at 395-5770.
